THE ART OF IMPROV

LET'S PLAY: SUPER HEROES

Let's brainstorm a list of unlikely superheroes.

Then we will act them out in small groups of 3-4.

* USING YOUR VOICE

It's all about the feelings

Our feelings about things are what tend to make us unique. So if we want our writing to be unique, we have to communicate strong feelings.

Whether you write your own speech piece or find one written by someone else, you can use your voice to convey the feelings, emotions, and views you choose.

Think about the written script for this video. The creator is using his own experiences, complete with his unique voice and style, to tell a story.
